

Name _____
World Literature

Sentence Patterns 1 & 2 (3rd Attempt 🤔)

Pattern 1: Subject | Verb

The dog ran under the shed.

Pattern 2: Subject | Verb | Direct Object

The dog chased the rabbit under the shed.

Directions:

- 1: Cross out all prepositional phrases.
- 2: Circle the subject. The subject must be a noun or pronoun.
- 3: Underline the verb phrase.
- 4: Below the sentence, write the basic sentence pattern (S|V or S|V|DO)
5. Read the basic sentence out loud to see if it makes sense. If it doesn't, fix it.

1. After the gold rush in California new businesses were created.
2. Along the side of the wall were ants crawling in the cracks.
3. Everyday we have been ordering a dozen glazed donuts.
4. While the rain showers fell, my dogs happily jumped in puddles.
5. Four of the squirrels were eating sunflower seeds at the bird feeder.
6. Despite the power outage, here is my History report.
7. I could only replace two sets of brake pads on Saturday.
8. The cashier at HEB did not put the avocados in my bag.

9. Finally we went hiking around Jenny Lake.
10. From our side of the street came a delicious aroma of barbecue.
11. Throughout Mark Twain's life, he traveled to fascinating places.
12. My uncle Caleb climbed on the roof to cut down a tree limb.
13. Past the over-grown garden is a hidden gate to the forest.
14. Down the road about half a mile several cows got out of their pasture.
15. The package from Amazon had been sitting by the door all day.
16. Since you like Mexican food we are going to Adobe Café for lunch.
17. The vet carefully set the hawk's broken wing.
18. I should have been watching the traffic signs.
19. On the railroad tracks under the bridge they were hiding for hours.
20. The drawing on the package does not help me understand the directions.